Furniture Engagement Process

Furniture Engagements – Fall 2026

OUR WHY

We design buildings, classrooms, and gathering spaces to advance the health, safety, well-being, and belonging of every student, by creating flexible, inclusive environments where space and furniture empower student choice and movement, support great teaching, and honor every learner's need.

What's Underneath Every Design Decision

Every design choice you'll review should ultimately trace back to three beliefs. They don't show up in a floor plan directly, but they should be visible in how a space feels and works:

- Equity – "Equity is Everything." Does this choice expand access and opportunity for every learner?
- Dignity – Does the space affirm each student, and work for a wide range of bodies, abilities, and needs?
- Holistic – Does the space consider the whole learner, i.e., sensory, social, emotional, and academic, and not just academics alone?

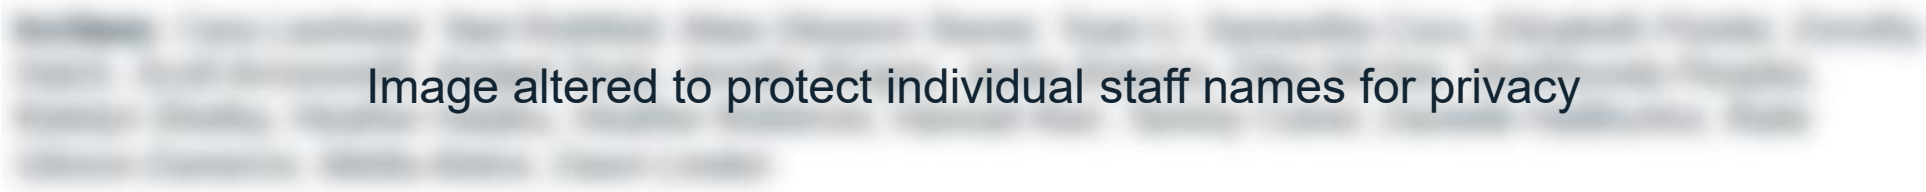

Furniture Engagements – Fall 2026

Common Spaces You'll See in the Designs

Name	What it is
Welcome Entry	The main building entry, what used to be called the "school front doors."
Heart	The building's main gathering space replaces "Commons," "cafeteria," "multiple purpose room," or a generic large open space.
Cafe	Cafeteria, performance area, and large meeting space combined. What used to be a stand-alone cafeteria or multipurpose room.
Learning Commons	A large flexible space connecting all of the classrooms in a grade level together to increase cross-classroom collaborations, offer student support within the learning community, team meetings, project work spaces, etc.
Learning Studio	A classroom space, the new name for what you'd call a classroom.
Flex Specials	A shared space where Specials with overlapping needs, i.e., band, orchestra, theater, etc., can spill into.
Small Group Room	A dedicated space for 6–8 staff and students, replaces a numbered or named small room.
Mudroom	A dedicated space for students to store personal and school belongings, replaces the coat area in a classroom.
Sensory Room	A calming space, what used to be called a Calming Corner or Calming Room.

Furniture Engagements – Fall 2026

example

THE HEART

The building's main gathering space replaces “Commons”, “Cafeteria”, “Multi-Purpose Room”, or a generic large open space.

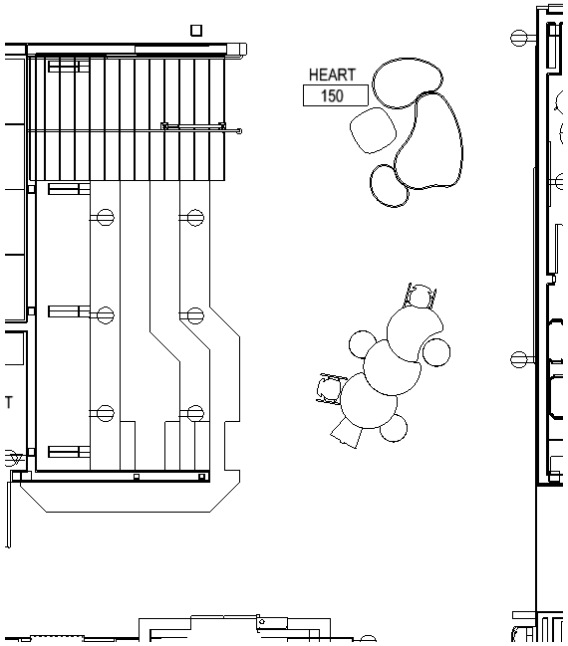

How do we gather as a community?

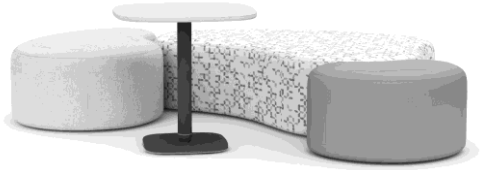

- What is the purpose of a space like this?
- Who will use this space?
- Can this space transform for function?
- How can furniture support these new opportunities?
